Sustainable Transit Packaging

This year, our key goal was to keep bringing returnable, sustainable, and innovative products to our customers. As a business we have experienced sustained growth every year for the past 20 years and we've done this by always ensuring our product range is cutting edge. By innovating we made sure our customers have access to the most up to date products and services and this helps us to grow alongside them. In Q2 we once again confirmed our Carbon Neutral status, achieving the PAS 2060 accreditation. Our carbon report includes a huge amount of effort from everyone at Exporta as well as our suppliers and we thank them all for their support.

In Q3 we enhanced our team as our former Operations Directo, Daniel Paterson, stepped into the role of Commercial Director. Daniel has been ensuring all sales and purchasing operations work seamlessly together, making sure all products are sourced and sold in a manner that's beneficial to the business, but most importantly, Exporta's customers.

Over the summer, we completed the expansion of our distribution centre in central Scotland. It's position, just seconds away from the UK's major motorway network, allows us to provide our industry leading next day delivery service to every corner of the UK. By extending our undercover storage facilities we can continue to keep up with demand and be a reliable and trusted supplier to our customers.

The new design is just the latest step in Exporta's continued expansion of their warehousing and logistical

This was our second time at Deliver, and it was great to speak with businesses across Europe about how we could help make their operation more efficient and cost effective.

In October attended Tomorrow's Warehouse in Manchester, a smaller event that allowed us to have more one on one conversation and time with attendees.

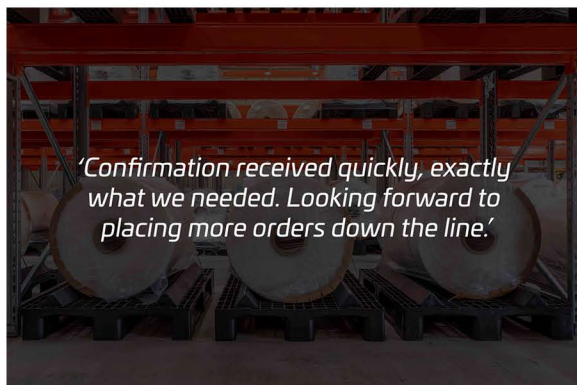

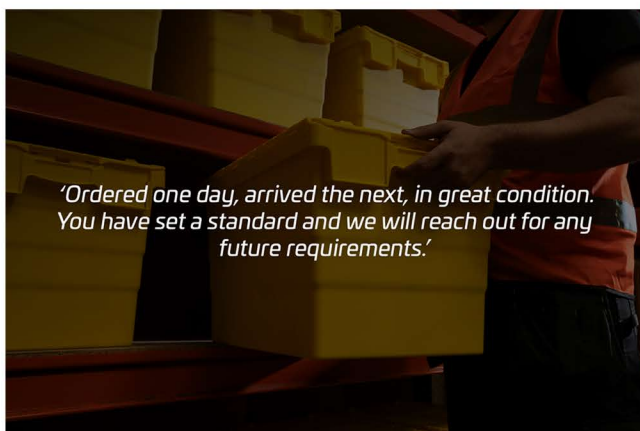

Thanks to all the visitors to our stands and the exhibitors for having us!

We exhibited 3 different exhibitions in 2024, showcasing our wide range products and expertise. In March we were at Intralogistex, hosted at the NEC in Birmingham. A staple in the Exporta calendar, Intralogistex is a gathering of industry leading exhibitors designed to help businesses discover new and innovative and supply chains to help deliver improvements in productivity and accuracy. In June we ventured further afield to Amsterdam to attend Deliver Europe, an elite event

Meeting the Challenge of Industry

Our specialists experience, knowledge and products are helping our drive customer performance in these key sectors.

A tall stack of dark grey industrial crates, likely made of plastic or metal, is the central focus of the image. The crates are stacked in a way that shows their interlocking design and the multiple levels of the stack. The background is a blurred industrial setting with structural beams and other equipment, suggesting a warehouse or factory environment. The lighting is dramatic, with strong highlights and shadows, emphasizing the texture and structure of the crates.
